Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file comprises multiple pictures of a teenager or young woman washing herself in a bathroom, obviously unaware of the camera. The image promotes and encourages criminal activity relating to intimate visual recordings (these are specific offences in the Crimes Act 1961) to such a degree, and in such a manner, that its availability is likely to be injurious to the public good. The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 but this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications that strongly encourage criminal acts in a manner that is likely to cause injury to the public good be classified as objectionable.
